MORE FEDERAL RELIEF PLANS

MEASURE CREATING PERMANENT FINANCE BODIES PRESENTED

WOULD ALSO CREATE TWO BILLION DOLLAR MORTGAGE
REFINANCE CORPORATION

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(P)—Creation of a permanent system of federal savings and loan associations as well as an emergency $2,000,000,000 corporation to refinance home mortgages would be authorized under a bill recommended to Congress today by President Roosevelt.

The bill would authorize subscription of $100,000,000 by the government for setting up permanent system of federal associations "to provide mutual thrift institutions in which people may place their savings and invest their funds, and in order to provide for the financing of homes."

These institutions would be in the nature of building and loan associations, but the bill provides they should not be established in any community unless the home loan bank board feels such community "is insufficiently served by local thrift and home-financing institutions."

Emergency provisions of the bill for refinancing existing home mortgages are drafted along the lines of the pending agricultural refinancing measure and are designed to save thousands of city home owners who are burdened with debt.

A Home Owners Loan Corporation would be created under the federal home loan board with a capitalization of $200,000,000 subscribed by the federal government. Funds would be obtained through the reconstruction corporation.

Tax Exempt Bonds

The home loan corporation would be authorized to issue tax exempt bonds up to $2,000,000,000 at four per cent interest, which would be exchanged for existing mortgages. The government would guarantee the interest but not the principal. Bonds exchanged for mortgages would be limited to 80 per cent of the value of the mortgaged home, appraised by the corporation. Refinancing would be limited to homes values at $10,000 or less, occupied by not more than three families.

Any mark down in the face value of the debt accepted by the mortgaged would be credited to the mortgagor.

The home owner would amortize his debt to the corporation within 15 years with interest at 5 per cent. The board would have authority to grant a three-year extension of time for payment of principal or interest.

In refinancing the home owner, the corporation could advance cash for the payment of taxes or assessments or provide for necessary maintenance or repairs.

Cash Advances

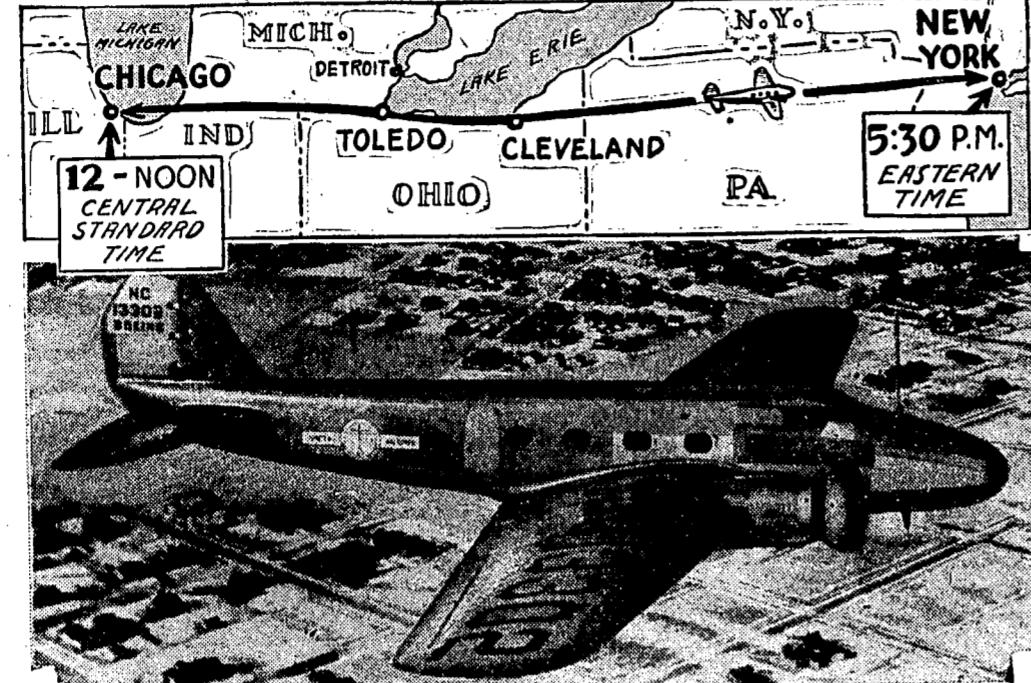

Cash advances for these purposes also could be made to home owners whose property was not mortgaged up to 80 per cent of the value.

Federal savings and loan associations would be set up under rules and regulations prescribed by the home loan bank board "giving primary consideration to the best practices of local mutual thrift and home financing institutions."

Each association would automatically...

MORTGAGE RELIEF BILL IS PASSED BY TEXAS SENATE

MARKET OUTLET GAS BILL PASSED TO THIRD READING IN HOUSE THURSDAY

AUSTIN, April 13.—(P)—The Texas senate today passed its substitute for the house mortgage foreclosure moratorium bill. The vote was 22 to 7.

The house bill would have called for a general moratorium for one year. The senate substitute would provide for a moratorium in individual cases until May 1, 1934.

Under the senate bill, a debtor in order to obtain relief, would have to convince a district court that he could not pay his indebtedness, that his property, if sold under forced sale, probably would bring less than its real value, and that the property was not being mismanaged. In order to obtain the benefits of the act, a debtor could not be more than two years in arrears in the payment of his taxes.

At today's session began McDonald, caused something of a sensation by declaring he had made incriminating statements at the time of his arrest because of the methods of the Russian secret police.

He said they had shown him a statement which they said had been made by Thornton in which Thornton admitted having used Wants Bill Legal.

POPE RESTORES TO RAMAN CATHOLIC WORLD ONE MOST PICTURESQUE CEREMONIES

BY JOHN LLOYD
VATICAN CITY, April 13.—(P)—A cope carried the blessed sacrament from its tabernacle in the Sistine Chapel for the Pauline Chapel for the first time since 1870 today. There it will be exposed until tomorrow, Good Friday.

Thus Plus XI, on the 1900th anniversary of Christ's institution of the eucharist, restored to the Roman Catholic world one of its most picturesque and traditional ceremonies.

The pontiff inaugurated the three most sacred days of Holy Week. It was one of several symbolic acts abandoned by Plus' predecessors through the past 63 years.

He is reviving them as part of the extraordinary holy year program he initiated April 1.

Surrounded by high dignitaries of the church and a few invited guests, he first said mass in the Sistine Chapel. This chapel is famous for Michael Angelo's frescoes covering the barrel vaulted ceiling and "Last Judgment" on the altar wall.

Then, accompanied by the sacred college of cardinals and a uniformed company of noble and Swiss guards, he carried the sacred chalice in procession to the Pauline Chapel, where it was consecrated.

Tomorrow, he will take it back to the Sistine Chapel where he again will say special mass.

The bells of Rome's 400 churches greeted Holy Thursday this morning, but stopped ringing after a few minutes, remaining silent until Saturday noon. The Catholic world is now mourning Christ's passion and death.

Thousands of pilgrims, including many Americans, attended services in St. Peter's, where Cardinal Pacelli, high priest, officiated. Other thousands went to the cathedral of St. John Lateran, in Rome, to venerate the table which it is said, was used at the last supper.

The secretary of the treasury was her only son. She is also survived by Payson Kingsbury Dickerman, a brother, of Milton, Pa.

KEY WELL TESTS EAST TEXAS FIELD BEING CONTINUED

SECOND DAY'S TESTS INDICATE POTENTIAL GREATER THAN FIRST DAY

KILGORE, April 13.—(P)—The Texas Railroad Commission planned to conduct two-hour "open flow" tests at 60 more key wells in the East Texas field today to obtain data on which to base a new order regulating production.

Tests made yesterday on about 60 wells showed a potential production of 570 barrels per well per hour. This test was higher than the one made Tuesday, which showed a per well potential of 414 barrels per well per hour.

Capt. E. N. Stanley, in charge of commission operations in the field, estimated the field would flow approximately 120,000,000 barrels per day if opened wide. This figure exceeded the estimate made yesterday by 20,000,000 barrels.

The well showing the highest test yesterday was the Martin Hays No. 1 W. C. Olvey, which flowed 955 barrels in one hour.

The lowest test was made at the Arkansas Fuel Oil Company's No. 8 Burnside, Johnson survey, which flowed 338 barrels in an hour.

Pipeline movements Tuesday amounted to 268,162 barrels and tank cars handled 37,263. Refineries took 35,000. Pipeline storage decreased 120,722 barrels.

In New Orleans a popular price was a nickel for an 8-ounce glass and a dime for a 17-ounce Stein.

ADMINISTRATION IN FIRST DEFEAT UPON FARM RELIEF BILL

HOUSE PASSED FARM MORTGAGE REFINANCING BILL BY LARGE MAJORITY

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(P)—By six votes, the senate today handed the administration its first defeat—inserting a cost of production guarantee into the big farm relief bill.

A coalition of democratic and republican independents put it through—47 to 41—in the face of repeatedly registered administration disapproval.

This followed within a few minutes approval by the house of the farm mortgage refinancing section of the relief bill, voted on by that branch separately. It went through by 387 to 12 after Speaker Rayne had blocked an attempt to have a big currency inflation plan substituted for the entire plan.

The house, which long ago approved the farm relief bill, voted on the mortgage bill to shorten the time needed to bring both branches in agreement once the consolidated bill gets through the senate.

The amendment the senate added to the bill is not mandatory, but merely authorizes the secretary of agriculture in helping the farmer to get more for his crops, to use the Simpson-Norris plan under which the farmer would be guaranteed enough for his crops to cover his cost of production, and a "reasonable profit."

Party lines were forgotten in the voting, 28 democrats kicking over the administration traces to line up with 18 republicans and the lone farmer-laborite, Shippensburg, Minn., to keep the provision in the bill.

It was the first record vote in the senate on the farm program or any section of it.

Immediately after the senate voted, Senator Harrison (D. Miss.), made a motion to reconsider the action but Senator Norris compelled a roll call by which the Harrison motion was tabled 46 to 41 preventing any further reconsideration.

Either the insurance company or the owner has to approach the "Home Owner's Corporation" for refinancing.

The insurance company will accept in exchange for the mortgage, bonds issued by the corporation on which the government guarantees 4 per cent interest. In return for the sure interest, the company may agree to mark down the debt of $5,000.

The corporation then gives the owner a new mortgage with a face value of $5,000, payable in 15 years at 5 per cent interest.

In addition the corporation may advance him cash for payment of taxes and necessary repairs and cover it in the mortgage.

In the discretion of the Home Owner's Corporation, the owner may be given a three-year mortgage on which the interest rates are addressed and referred to the elections committee.

The petitioners asserted they were ready to furnish witnesses who would establish among other things, that Senator Long "is personally dishonest, corrupt and immoral" and added his continuation in office "is repulsive to the respectable and law-abiding citizens of Louisiana and the nation."

"The terms are such as to impose the least possible charge upon the national treasury consistent with the object sought."

May Be Adjusted

"It provides machinery through which existing mortgage debts on single homes may be adjusted to a sound basis of values without injustice to investors, at substantially lower interest rates and with provision for postponing both interest and principal payments in cases of extreme need."

"The resources to be made available through a bond issue to be guaranteed as to interest only by the treasury, will, it is thought, be sufficient to meet the needs of those to whom other methods of financing are not available."

"At the same time the plan of

AKRON PROBE

After a 15-minute executive session which preceded the opening of the fourth day's session, Lieutenant Commander Ralph G. Pennoyer, judge advocate, said that, since the joint congressional inquiry would call several witnesses to Washington, the secretary of the navy had authorized the service board to adjourn next week to the Washington navy yard.

The board expected to finish today testimony in connection with the destruction of the Akron and to hear tomorrow and Saturday the story of the crash of the J-3 in which two lives were lost, in the afternoon of the day the Akron went down.

Today's first witness, Lieutenant F. A. L. Dartsch, assistant station aerologist, described preparation of weather charts on Monday, April 3, the day the Akron took off on her last night.

Weather conditions that morning, Dartsch said, were such that a projected flight of the J-3, the blimp which was lost the following day, was "considered unadvisable."

Dartsch testified that the forecast he prepared on April 3 dictated a route that drew him up by Lieutenant H. M. Westcoat, aerologist of the Akron, who went down with the ship.

Dartsch said his own forecast predicted possible showers, Westcoat's mostly clear weather.

"In view of your experience," Pennoyer asked, "Did you consider weather conditions unfavorable to the flight of the Akron on April 3?"

"I did not," Dartsch replied.

Macon Flight Postponed.

AKRON, April 13.—(AP)—The first test flight of the U. S. S. dirigible Macon to determine if the navy will accept her was definitely postponed today by Lieutenant Alger H. Dresel, after he had studied weather conditions.

Wiley To Make Tests.

LAKEHURST, N. J., April 13.—(AP)—Lieutenant Commander H. V. Wiley, pilot in charge of the U. S. S. Akron, said today, that he would probably go to Akron early next week to make some of the test flights of the U. S. S. Macon.

Gale Hampers Search.

U. S. PORTLAND AT SEA, April 13.—(AP)—A thirty mile wind kept the salvage fleet from operations today in the search for wreckage of the airship Akron and the bodies of the 67 men still unrecovered.

Eight planes made one turn around the search area off the Jersey coast but were ordered back to land by Captain Leary, who commands the search from this cruiser.

Skies were clearing after the two day storm but the sea was still running high.

Akron's Commander Buried Thursday

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The navy, with full honors, buried Commander Frank E. McCorde, skipper of the ill-fated Akron, in Arlington cemetery this morning and then turned to perform the final rites for Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of aeronautics who went down with the ship.

McCorde's burial was preceded by funeral services at the Chevy Chase Presbyterians church, where the air officer was married. His casket was escorted to the national cemetery by Commanders W. E. Butler, E. H. Bierl, W. M. Gulette, Edward F. Engman and J. W. McClain, and Lieutenant Commander Jesse L. Kenworthy, executive officer of the airship's Lakehurst base.

For the Moffett funeral this afternoon the navy arranged an impressive aerial escort, ten planes dropping flowers over the grave. High ranking officers of the navy were chosen honorary pall bearers, including Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of operations; Rear Admiral Frank B. Upham, Rear Admiral Frank S. Land, Captain Arthur C. Cook, and Capt. Edward A. Cobey.

The navy bank, a company of sailors and a company of marines formed a military escort, with the secretary of the navy Claude Swanson, in attendance at the grave.

MORTGAGES

(Continued From Page 1) settlement will provide a standard which should put an end to present uncertain and chaotic conditions that create fear and despair among both home owners and investors.

"Legislation of this character is a subject that demands our most earnest, thoughtful and prompt consideration." (Signed)

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, "The White House, April 13, 1933."

Home Mortgage Bill

Senator Robinson (D-Ark.) in an explanation of the bill said there are $20,000,000 outstanding in home mortgages.

"The administration is making an effort by this bill," he said, "First and primarily to give immediate relief to the small home owner now in distress and to the mortgagees holding these mortgages, and to provide for the payment of taxes to prevent loss of homes, and, at the same time, to promote the development of a sound system of permanent home financing."

Explaining the provisions for emergency refinancing of home mortgages, Robinson said: "It is intended by this provision to provide special relief for the small home owner and it is estimated that these figures will include approximately three-fourths, in number, of American homes."

Aid Both Ways

"It is hoped that this plan will give relief to many small home owners whose mortgages are held by institutions unable to carry the same, and at the same time, give these institutions the reasonable present value of their mortgages in a bond with interest guaranteed by the United States and give the home owner a five per cent mortgage, amortized over a period of 15 years, which will result in a monthly payment for interest and principal."

Repeal of the direct loan section of the home loan act is provided, Robinson said, because it has "proved to be unworkable."

A major change was made in the emergency home loan bank bill before it was introduced in Congress.

Although it had originally called for refinancing homes values up to $20,000, the limit in the bill as introduced was fixed at $10,000. There was no explanation of the last minute change.

SANDSTORM

Kansas Raked By Sandstorm Today

KANSAS CITY, April 13.—(AP)—One of the worst sand and sandstorms in 10 years, raked portions of the Texas Panhandle and the Western sections of Oklahoma and Kansas last night and early today.

Top soil was whipped about in the teeth of a gale which reached a maximum velocity of 50 miles an hour.

Reports from Meade, Kas., said livestock snorted mud from their nostrils while wheat fields were swept bare and dust and sand drifted on highways like sand.

R. L. BonTrebla, a citizen of City, Kas., expressed belief that the sand put the "finishing touches" to much of the wheat in that section which he said was already "on the edge of going."

Some localities of Northwestern Oklahoma reported several inches of earth had been swept from the surface in newly planted fields and in others growing crops had been buried under layers of sand. The visibility of Waynoka, Okla., was a 44-mile wind prevalent, was only one mile.

From Perrytown in the Texas Panhandle came word of the worst sand storm in 25 years, with 36 tourists unable to venture out on the highways. At Plainview, Texas, livestock exhibitors huddled in barns with their herds and called off a dairy show parade.

At Dodge City, Kas., the wind was gauged at 40 miles. The Observer, at Larned, Kas., said "a fierce dust storm" yesterday and last night was the worst in the history of the nation.

Snow was falling in Northwest Kansas today and snow or rain was forecast over most of the area.

Severe Dust Storm.

PLAINVIEW, April 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt sent a letter today to Captain Carl Daldorf of the German ship, Phoebeus, tendering "this nation's gratitude" for the services of the crew in rescuing three of the members of the Akron.

He was a member of the Episcopal church and vestry here.

In addition to his banking and other interests, Mr. Mills was a member of the Mills and Garity family, owners and operators of several shallow oil leases near Corsicana.

He was fond of athletics, and was especially interested in baseball, football and other sports.

Major Mills served as a member of the Texas legislature.

Funeral arrangements will be directed by the Sutherland-McCammon Funeral Home.

Body of Woman Found Crammed In Trunk Today

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—The body of an unidentified woman, about 35 years old, was found in a small steamer trunk today in front of a Madison Avenue residence near 133rd street.

Examiners said that she had not been dead long. They were unable to discover in cursory examination how she had been killed.

The body was discovered by two negroes who had been warming themselves by a fire in a metal barrel under the approach to the Madison Avenue bridge over the Harlem River.

The negroes said they left the spot at about 4 a. m., to gather wood with which to replenish the fire. The trunk was not there at that time. On their return at 6 a. m., they noticed it. Opening the lid, which was unlocked, they saw the partly clad body, face down.

The dead woman appeared to be about 5 feet, 1 inch tall and weighing about 120 pounds. She wore a dark dress, a pink slip and grey stockings.

MAJOR MILLS

After attending school in Corsicana, Major Mills graduated from Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and practiced law in Dallas for several years.

He was private secretary for a number of years to his distinguished father, Col. Roger Q. Mills, member of the House of Representatives and later Texas senator in the United States senate.

Charity Official.

Major Mills was a trustee of the Garity Charity Association and was the donor of the annual Roger Q. Mills award for demonstration at the State Hospital here.

He was a major in the United States Army during the Spanish-American war and saw active service during the hostilities.

An extensive traveler, and well-educated, Major Mills was well posted on all current events as well as being a student practically all of his life.

The First National Bank will be closed all day Friday on account of Major Mills' death.

Married in Bryan.

Major Mills was married to Miss Rachel Sims, daughter of Col. and Mrs. W. M. Sims, of Bryan, Texas, in 1893.

Surviving are his wife, a niece, Miss Caroline Wood, San Diego, California; two nephews, Roger Malloney and Robert Malloney, Washington; and a number of cousins and other relatives.

He was a member of the Episcopal church and vestry here.

In addition to his banking and other interests, Mr. Mills was a member of the Mills and Garity family, owners and operators of several shallow oil leases near Corsicana.

He was fond of athletics, and was especially interested in baseball, football and other sports.

MEXICO HOPES

(Continued From Page 1) imports, the bulk of which are from the United States. Therefore any means taken to aid mining and agriculture would immediately and effectively be felt in the United States export markets, which feed Mexico with around 70 per cent of her imports.

Although President Rodriguez has not yet stated publicly the position Mexico would adopt in the Washington conference, called in recent declarations pledged "full co-operation."

"You can rest assured," he said, "that Mexico is anxious to do all in its power to co-operate in every way to improve the political and economic atmosphere of the world. Whatever we can do to support economic and political understanding among the peoples will be done enthusiastically."

In view of these declarations, it is believed Alberto J. Pani, Mexico's delegate, a strong Calle follower, will leave Sunday to go to Roosevelt's suggestions at Washington. It is generally conceded that the proper investigation to be instituted will conduct that the specific facts and instances in support of the above charges may be presented.

"Evidence is available, by the use of the proper processes of the senate, to substantiate all charges."

(Copyright, 1932, Edgar A. Guest.)

PREDICTION

Who looks at life with open eyes
Much know that rouble yonder lies, But also at some future date
Some joy will make his heart elate.

The young must age, the old must die. Gay lips in time must sadly sigh,
Yet youth is eager to grow old,
To claim the joy tomorrow holds.

We have known gladness in the past, And countless charms not meant to last, And who dare say that it is vain
To hope that peace shall come again?

Beyond us, waiting for us now,
Are treasures we shall find somehow, And sorrows, though the path seem fair,
Which we shall surely have to bear.

So to the future let us go,
Eager each new day's freight to bear, Certain that down that unknown lane
We shall discover peace again.

INTERCHANGE OF CURRENCY

Free interchange of the currencies of Canada and the United States encounters some obstacles at points distant from the international border, but there seems to be nothing to prevent it in the border strip. Americans cannot be compelled by their government to accept Canadian currency, which is not legal tender in the United States, but their government should be prevailed upon to approve and promote the free interchange of the two currencies. It would be eminently desirable if commercial interests across the line would give their official approval to the acceptance of Canadian currency in the daily transactions of business.

The most ambitious undertaking of this kind has been launched in this state. Gutzon Borglum, noted sculptor, has been made chairman of the Texas highway park board, and an elaborate program of highway beautification has been formulated. Included in the program is the planting of oleander trees along both sides of many miles of roads, palm and date trees along other roads and different kinds of semi-tropical trees along additional highways. Billboards are to be eliminated, and parkways, planted with evergreens, are to be developed at suitable places along the state's highways. In preparation for carrying out of its program, the state has begun buying land beside the roads. It is expected to have the program far advanced by the time of the Texas centennial in 1936.

Few states will feel able financially to emulate Texas' example at present. There is little doubt, though, that eventually many will carry out similar projects. Those that can afford it, even where it has to be done on the installment plan, will find it, in the long run, a profitable venture.

NEW TREATY-MAKING PLAN

A new method in negotiating treaties is to be introduced by President Roosevelt, if the Washington interpretation given a recent announcement by the state department proves to be correct.

The department revealed that before beginning to negotiate new commercial agreements the president would seek in advance congressional authority and specific.

What plan or method be followed in carrying out this idea, the state department's announcement did not disclose. Instead of initiating a treaty which or may not subsequently be ratified by the senate,

President is hopeful at a way may be found by which he can begin negotiations in possession of a specific grant of power which will assure acceptance of the agreement he effects.

Although a sharp departure from the old method, the proposal has advantages which can not be disputed. If a way to carry it out be found, foreign representatives in conducting negotiations with the President will have assurance that any agreement reached will be binding in its effects. The president would be in more advantageous position also if he knew beforehand just how far he could go and what he could do. The old method has been the source of much complaint in the stitutional requirements.

JUST LIKE THE REST OF US!

WORTHY CAUSES SUFFER*NOT ALL IS WAR.

One of the distressing features of the depression that has received but slight attention was brought out at the biennial conference of the committee on financial and fiduciary matters of the Federal Council of Churches.

Because of the great shrinkage in estates, many institutions, including churches, are liable to feel the effects of the depression long after the latter is ended.

One speaker, Leroy A. Mershon, a former official of the American Bankers' association, estimated that 75 per cent of public bequests written into wills in the last 25 years either have been taken out of the wills or never will be paid because of the decline in security values and other effects of the depression.

"Literally, hundreds of thousands of others have made changes in their wills, taking out all bequests to institutions, because losses sustained security and property values left just enough to take care of their families. This represents at least 75 per cent of the people of this country."

The institutions that will suffer include hospitals, colleges and social and welfare organizations of various kinds.

The possibility that some of these losses may be made up by annual donations from persons able to make them when prosperity returns offers hope. Full compensation, however, is unlikely, and the activities of the institutions affected necessarily will be restricted.

In more recent times there has come to us the warning that money carries germs. Germ experts even went so far as to demonstrate that a bank clerk's occupation was particularly hazardous because he handles so much money. But now this dread has been dispelled. After exhaustive investigation on the subject of money as germ carriers two Illinois University experts assure us that this danger has been greatly exaggerated. It seems that the metals from which coins are made act as destroyers of bacteria.

This relieves us of the worry connected with the handling of money. The next thing for some expert to do is to tell us how we may be relieved of our worries in trying to get hold of it.

Every one will want to set and buy baby chickens at once, so book your trays for setting each Monday and Thursdays. We will have baby chickens to sell at all times from now on so speak for what you want.

Poultry business will recover sooner than any other farm product so keep your flock up to what can take care of, would be our advice.

Yours truly,

A. B. Walker & SonHEAVY INFLATION
OF CURRENCY URGED
FINANCE MORTGAGES

WASHINGTON, April 11.—(P.) A big inflation of the currency to refine the farm mortgages was urged today by the house agriculture committee minority in a report stating the administration farm mortgage plan "will prove to be a disappointment."

The minority views were signed by one democrat, Pierce of Oregon, and two republicans, Boileau of Wisconsin and Gilchrist of Iowa. They urged the mortgage plan of Senator Frazier (R., N.D.), and like the senator agriculture committee endorsed the principle of inflation.

"We are of the opinion," the minority said, "that the circulation of more tax-exempt interest-bearing bonds is detrimental to our country but that the circulation of a large amount of currency will increase commodity prices and go a long way toward restoring prosperity."

Frazier's bill would refinance farm mortgages at 11-2 per cent interest and 11-2 per cent amortization payment. Farm loan bonds bearing 4 per cent interest would be issued those not sold to be exchanged with the federal reserve board for an equal value of federal reserve currency.

The minority listed among other major "objectionable features" to the administration plan:

The issuance of $2,000,000,000 in tax exempt bonds with four per cent interest guaranteed by the government. It said this was "not justifiable because the country is in need of more currency."

The rate of interest of 4-1/2 per cent would be "about one per cent less than the average rates now being paid" by the farmer.

The amount of new mortgage which can be placed under the terms of the bill is entirely inadequate.

OFFICERS SEIZED
BIG STILL; TWO MEN
BEING QUESTIONED

County officers seized a 250-gallon copper still and destroyed 5,400 gallons of mash in a prohibition raid northeast of Corsicana early Tuesday morning. Two men were questioned in connection with the still Tuesday morning.

The still was not in operation and no liquor was found by the officers. No one was present at the still.

The officers stated that the attenuants of the still were laid in two suitcases, drawing a trailer on one of the cars. When the officers approached the fleeing automobile, the car to which the trailer was attached was abandoned across the road and the occupants of the two cars sped away to crash into a clay bank at a sharp turn in the road, a half mile away. The men then locked the car and escaped before the pursuing officers could remove the car and trailer across the road and proceed, the officers said.

The still was found 11-2 miles north of Petty Chapel near Chamber's creek in a pasture.

Sheriff Rufus Pevhouse and Deputy Sheriffs Jack Floyd and J. M. Westbrook were in the raiding party.
